WERE BLOODY AND BRUISED

Fitzsimmons and O'Brien in Fast and Fierce Bout in Philadelphia.

NO DECISION IS RENDERED

Fight Was in Open Air and Was Witnessed by About 6,000 People.

(By Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 23.—Jack O'Brien and Bob Fitzsimmons to-day fought the fastest six-round bout ever witnessed in this city between men of their weight. When the gong announced the close of the fight, both men were on their feet, but both bore the marks of the gruelling fight they had just gone through. Fitzsimmons' lips were twice their normal size and his left eye was almost closed, while O'Brien's left eye was also cut and swollen.

While O'Brien landed the greater number of blows, they did not do nearly so much damage as those landed by Fitz, and the latter was fresher at the close of the fight. There was not a clean knock down during the bout. Three times O'Brien went to the floor, twice in endeavoring to get away from Fitz, and the third time partly from Fitz's right, which landed on O'Brien's neck, and partly through the latter's feet getting tangled.

The fight was held on the National League baseball grounds, the ring being pitched directly between the pitcher's box and the grand stand, immediately over the home plate. It was the first open air boxing contest ever given in this city, and the novelty of the affair drew a crowd of about 6,000 persons.

Round 1—Fitzsimmons led with his left, but missed, and as O'Brien ducked, he landed a right on the back of the neck. O'Brien landed a light left on Fitz's face and the men clinched. Fitzsimmons landed a light right on O'Brien's wind, and the latter drew the blood from Fitzsimmons' mouth. Jack again landed a left to Fitz's nose, and got away without a return. O'Brien then knocked the skin off Fitz's nose with a light uppercut, and drew the blood in a stream from his mouth. Fitzsimmons missed a ferocious right, and O'Brien, in attempting to get away, fell to the floor. O'Brien had all the best of the round.

Round 2—Both landed, and Fitz missed two lefts, but finished with a right to the jaw, and as the latter rushed in, Fitz drove his right to stomach. O'Brien landed a hard right and left to Fitz's jaw, bringing the blood again. Fitz was unable to land with success on O'Brien up to this time. O'Brien cut Fitz's nose with a sharp right, and sent him to the floor. Fitz landed a light uppercut, and drew the blood in a stream from his mouth. Fitzsimmons missed a ferocious right, and O'Brien, in attempting to get away, fell to the floor. O'Brien had all the best of the round.

Round 3—The men danced about the ring, and then Fitz missed a hard right to the jaw. He landed a light left on O'Brien's stomach, and the latter drove a straight left to Fitz's nose, sending the blood in a stream from his mouth. Fitz landed a hard left on O'Brien's wind, which made the latter flinch. O'Brien missed a left to the face and the men clinched. Fitz tried a right for the wind, but was short, and O'Brien countered with a hard right to the face. As the men exchanged blows, Fitz landed a hard left on O'Brien's chin, and Jack brought his left flush on Fitz's jaw. The men were clinched at the bell.

Round 4—O'Brien was the first to lead, but missed a left for Fitz's face. Bob led with his left, and the men clinched. Fitz tried a hard right, and as he came in, O'Brien uppercut him with a left. O'Brien then landed three blows without a return. Fitz landed a right on Jack's wind, and the latter ran away. A left to the face again, started the blood from Fitz's mouth. Jack landed a light left on the damaged nose, and the referee had to separate the men. Fitz missed a left for the face, and O'Brien landed a hard left uppercut. Fitz brought the blood from O'Brien's mouth with a straight left, but missed a hard right as the men were sent to their corners.

Round 5—Fitz missed a left for the face, and O'Brien countered with a right to the wind. Fitz missed another left, and the men had to be separated by the referee. O'Brien landed a light one, and Fitz drove a hard one to O'Brien's wind, repeating the blow a second time. Fitz missed a light right to the face, and as the men came together, O'Brien drove a hard right to Fitz's wind. The men were sparring for wind. Fitz landed a light blow on O'Brien's wind, and then sent a left to the jaw and a right on the chin. O'Brien got to his feet, the gong sounded, and the fight was over.

Round 6—Fitz led with a left, but missed. He landed the same blow a second later, and then drove a left to the wind, which took some of the steam of O'Brien. Fitz opened a cut over O'Brien's left eye, and then drove a right to the face, but his blows lacked power. Fitz landed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien countered with a left to Fitz's damaged mouth. Both men were bleeding profusely. O'Brien slipped to the floor in attempting to get away from Fitz, and Jack countered with a left to the wind, and Jack countered with a left to the wind. The men were clinched as the gong sounded. As the men were clinched, O'Brien's left eye had a nasty gash over it, and a light left was aimed at O'Brien's face. Fitz sat in his corner, his wife, who had been watching the fight from the ring-side, walked up the steps and played a kiss upon her husband's swollen lips.

Each of the fourteen fortunate parties will be composed of three ladies. The winners are requested to call on the manager of the outing tour contest at once at The Times-Dispatch business office and arrange for the details of their trip. There are seven resorts from which to choose, and two parties will be assigned to each resort, one for the first week and one for the second week, thus providing for the fourteen parties. Party number one has the first choice of resorts; party number two has the second choice, and so on to the fourteenth party, until all are assigned. Every party will be expected to report either personally, by representative or in writing on Monday, July 25, at 8 A. M., and if a party fails to report as above requested, the next party will be given the place. This rule will be necessary in order that ample time may be had in which to arrange for transportation, baggage transfer and all other details of the trips. It is desired that as many parties as possible will report early on Monday.

Those parties eligible to compete for the grand consolation prize will meet of send representatives to be present when this prize trip is awarded. A plan, simple and perfectly fair to every one, has been adopted, and the winners of the trip will be decided upon at exactly half-past 10 o'clock to-morrow (Monday) afternoon. The meeting will be held in the circulation department office, on the second floor of No. 914 East Main Street, over The Times-Dispatch business office, at 1:30 P. M., Monday, July 25th. The winners of the consolation prize will be announced in The Times-Dispatch on Tuesday morning.

Short Lesson in Geography.

Now, children, for a short lesson in geography. Judge Parker lives at Kingston. Epopus and Rosemont, all three, live in the county town of Ulster county. Epopus is a small village on the railroad and river, ten miles from Kingston. Parker lives on a large tract of land on the outskirts of Epopus, sloping down to the river. His house is built on the crest of a small hill, and his country seat Rosemont, not Rosemont, as some have it, the above is a straight, undecorated, dark (the teacher pronounced it as you will both north the month—Charlotte Observer.

Summer Prices

never fail to bring heavy buying and the last two weeks have proved it beyond our expectation. This is the time of year when the

Cleaning Up Season

is upon us and everything goes under the hammer of

PRICE CUTTING.

We never wish to carry a Piano over from one season to another and this is one of the ways for bringing this about and through this method, we turn an otherwise dull season into a very busy one.

When one wants the best Piano, they always associate it with this house, whose every effort has been to carry the best, and so it is when you wish a modest priced Piano. We study the world's market to obtain and keep the best. We are not compelled to handle the output of any one factory, whether good or bad but all are open to us and you are the gainer by this fact.

STEINWAY, WEBER, KNABE, HARDMAN, STANDARD, KIMBALL, WHEELLOCK, HAINES

are the "top listers" in the Piano world, and experts acknowledge it. Some few more Uprights added to our list of These are extra bargain opportunities. We like to show them to all comers.

ORT WELLS WINS THE DERBY

Broomstick Disqualified for Interfering With Favorite—Results on Other Tracks.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 23.—The sport at Brighton Beach was marred to-day by the fatal injury of Jockey Ernest Swallow. In the second race Opuntia on the back stretch fell at a jump, throwing Swallow and then rolling on him. The jockey died shortly afterwards in a hospital. He was twenty-one years old and hailed from Toronto.

Ort Wells, winner of the Commonwealth handicap, the Lawrence realization and many other stakes, to-day added to his already long list by capturing the $10,000 Brighton Derby. The Drake horse was ridden out to beat Broomstick by two and one-half lengths. After the jockeys had weighed out, the stewards disqualified Broomstick for interfering with Ort Wells in making the turn into the stretch the first time. Knight Errant was officially placed second, and Bobdidi, third. Summaries:

Wanted to Hang Him.

Justice John offered to hang Nick Valentine yesterday if his wife wished. He was accused of beating her so badly, and so often that she said she couldn't live with him. Being asked to name the punishment she thought he deserved, she passed by hanging, the idea of which the justice seemed to relish greatly, and consented to hang him. He was bound over for twelve months to keep the peace. For lack of a bondsman he went back to the pen.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN

Fine Outlook for Charlottesville Horse Show, to be Held August 3d and 4th.

PRINCESS KING AND OTHERS

Sir Red, Son of Red Wilkes. Trotters and Pacers in Training at Roanoke and Raleigh.

Manager Joel Cochran, of the Albemarle Horse Show Association, Charlottesville, Va., is sending out quite a handsome catalogue of the prizes to be distributed there during the annual exhibition of this well known and popular organization to be held on August 3d and 4th. Charlottesville is the central point of an important breeding and grazing district, one which furnishes horses able to go out and win important events on the big race tracks. Charlottesville is quite an important railroad center, too, and being easy of access the annual Horse Show is an event looked forward to for months ahead.

The catalogue, and since its inception there has always been accorded generous patronage. The prizes have been enlarged this season and other important changes added to the programme this season, which renders it even more attractive. Formerly Secretary, F. H. Treiber and Treasurer A. V. Conway are earnest co-workers of Manager Cochran, while other officers of the association include such men as E. O. Meyer, president; H. E. McGruder, first vice-president; C. R. Randolph, second vice-president, and C. R. Randolph, third vice-president.

In his private stable here William A. Walker, of this city, has some richly bred trotters, which, with one or two exceptions, were purchased at the big New York sales last winter. Lord Chancellor, the black stallion by Dare Devil, 2:30, dam Princess May R., by Prince Regent, is in training at Ace
